FUNNY FREIGHT RATES, -- The new tariff schedule on the west side is a thoroughbred. It calls for 20 cents per hundred pounds on first or any other class of freight from Portland to Corvallis, and 44 cents per hundred on first-class freight from Corvallis to Portland. Why is it worth 24 cents more to haul a hundred pounds of freight ninety-seven miles north than it is to haul it ninety-seven miles southward is best understood by the unctious officials of the S. P. and the expensive members of the railroad commission. 25 cents per hundred was the old rate from Portland to McMinnville. The new tariff advances it seven cents and places it at 32 per 100 and collects 37 cents per 100 from Corvallis to McMinnville, a shorter haul by two miles. The latter is a discrimination of more than five cents per 100 in favor of Portland days. and against Corvallis. The old rate from Portland to Independence was 28 built to the cemetery. cents per 100, first-class, and the new one is 38. The new rate from Corvallis to Forest Grove, about the same distance, is 44 per 100, or 14 cents per 100 more than the former rate from Corvallis to Portland. The new tariff was put into effect with the consent of the board of railway commissioners. If it isn't an dull this year.-Corvallis Times,
